YOUR ATTENTION
For one moment, please!

DO YOU WEAR PANTS?
Do they fit you?
Are you well supplied with them?

These are pertinent questions, but at this season of the year are to the point.

In looking over your wardrobe can't you see that there is quite a bit of wear in that coat and vest yet, if you only had a pair of trousers to go with them. (This is where economy which means wealth comes in.)

Before the arrival of our Fall Stock we are making a clean and clear sweep of all our Summer Trouserings

FROM $5 PER PAIR UP—SEE THEM.

It will pay you to walk 40 miles to get a pair of our $9 trousers for $7, or our $12 trousers for $9. And then again there are those $35 Scotch Cheviot Tweed Suits for $30, and only a few of our $25 ones for $20; and just wait until you see those elegant Venetian Overcoatings we are whacking out at $25.

There are no Shelf-worn or Back Numbers in these goods; they are all this season's purchases, and will be made up with the same care in finish and workmanship I put on all my ordered work.

IT IS WONDERFUL HOW IT IS DONE

but we have to keep up with the times when leading the tailoring procession in Victoria. Our stock of Black and Blue Black Worsteds is always "up to Dick," every grade being well represented and every garment guaranteed by the wonderful

Premier Abbott's Rumored Intention of Paying a Visit to British Columbia.

Extraordinary Proceedings in Connection With the Election in Chicoutimi.

The Returning Officer's Method of Securing the Return of the Governments's Man.

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—A dispatch from Montreal says it is currently reported that Hon. Mr. Abbott's coming visit to the Pacific coast is to be taken at the request of the Imperial Government, that a report of the condition of the Esquimalt fortifications may be made by some minister of eminence. The Premier will travel in the private car of President Van Horne, which has been placed at his disposal.

QUEER DOINGS.

The Method Adopted to Elect the Government Candidate in Chicoutimi.

TORONTO, Aug. 19. — The Globe's Quebec correspondent says: "There is serious reason for believing that the Chicoutimi election was one of the greatest political frauds ever perpetrated in this district by the Tory authorities. Savard's agent has wired to Quebec that his principal is elected by 39 votes, if the Pointe aux Esquimalt poll is eliminated. At the last moment returning officer Trembly telegraphed to a man named Gosseling at Pointe aux Esquimalt, notifying him that he had been named deputy returning officer. Gosseling said that he had neither ballot boxes nor ballot papers. The returning officer then wired him to get a small wooden box made, prepare a certain number of ballot papers and write the names of the candidates upon them. On the morning of the 16th, the deputy returning officer wired that he had no voters' list for his poll. 'If you have no list,' answered the returning officer, 'allow those who are supposed to be electors to vote, and it will be all right.' The deputy returning officer then went to work and returned 63 votes for Belley."

Another Strike Threatened.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 19.—Unless an adjustment is made very soon it is probable that the switchmen of all the roads running out of Louisville will quit work for some time. The switchmen in the locality have felt dissatisfied with wages and hours. The strike at Buffalo precipitated a demand on the Louisville & Nashville for the adoption of the Chicago scale. From what can be learned at the offices of the company the switchmen of the road will be informed to-morrow that their request has been refused. The men claim that they will immediately quit work. In case of refusal a general railroad strike will ensue.

Fraternal Societies' Defence.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 19.—The meeting of representatives of the various fraternal organizations of this State to-day is attracting much interest in insurance circles throughout the State. D. A. Scringeour of this city, one of the signers of the circular in response to which to-day's meeting is being held, said that the idea grew out of the evident determination on the part of the old line insurance companies to destroy the beneficial insurance associations by procuring legislation requiring the latter to deposit their funds and securities with the State, instead of keeping them themselves, which would, of course, drive every beneficial society in the State out of existdnce. Realizing that the only way to avert such a movement is to endeavor to see that legislative candidates not unfriendly to them are chosen, they propose to form a union of every society in the State for this purpose, and to pledge their members not to vote for any candidate who will not promise to protect the orders from such legislation.

The Canals of Mars.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Director Holden, of the Lick Observatory, says that up to the middle of August many of the canals of Mars discovered in 1877 by Professor Schiaparelli were mapped here this year, but no one of them was seen to be double. On the night of August 17th, Schaiberle, Campbell and Hussey made three entirely independent drawings, each of which shows the canal marked Cauges on Schiaparelli's map to be distinctly double. Thus the Lick Observatory has the pleasure of confirming the discovery of Professor Schiaparelli in 1892, as it already had done in its observations of 1890.

Gasoline Explosion.

CHINO, Cal. Aug. 19. — Yesterday while an engineer in the sugar factory named Wright was filling a gasoline stove, which had been burned out, but retained a spark of fire, exploded, enveloping himself, wife and 3 year old child in the flames. His house is burned down, the child perished in the flames, Mrs. Wright cannot live and Mr. Wright is badly burned, his arms to the elbow being fairly cooked. One hand will be crippled for life.

The Buffalo Strike.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 19.—By calling out the switchmen on the Nickle Plate road the entire Vanderbilt system in Buffalo is now tied up, and the number of strikers increased by one hundred. Railroad officials profess the belief that the strike is nearing its collapse. The men, however, claim that the battle is only begun, and will include the firemen, engineers and conductors, until victory is won.

A Society in Trouble.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 19.—The Knights of the Golden Rule, whose national headquarters are in this city, seem to be in trouble. Mrs. Manr, of Evansville, Indiana, has applied for $1000, which she alleges is due her by reason of her husband's death. Secretary Thomas J. Smith claims that half that amount only is due her, and this he offered her, but she declined it.

SOCIETY OF JESUS.

An American Priest Has a Prospect of Becoming the "Black Pope."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 19.—The General Chapter of the Society of Jesus to be held at Rome in the latter part of this month will elect a Superior-General for the coming term, and much interest is taken in the event among Catholics in this city in view of the fact that Rev. B. Villiger, pastor of the Church of the Gesu, has been mentioned in connection with the position. Father Villiger is one of the oldest and best known members of the society in America. He has traveled extensively as a missionary all over the United States, and in his early days was distinguished for his labors in the west. He was born in Switzerland 73 years ago, and when the Jesuits were expelled from that country in the revolution of 1848, he came to this country in company with about 40 others. After his ordination in this country he was rapidly promoted until he became Provincial of the Province of Maryland, which includes all the states from Virginia to Massachusetts. When the war broke out he was appointed Superior of the western missions, and after several years of labor in that field was assigned to the Church of the Gesu in this city. In 1888 he celebrated his golden jubilee, and was the recipient of many congratulations and presents. Many other important questions will come up before the Chapter besides the election of a Superior-General. Letters have just been received by all the bishops in the United States from the Prefect of the Propaganda urging them to devote special attention to the important question of parish schools. The prefect in in his communication to the bishops congratulates the entire clergy of the United States on the mutual good will and spirit of accord which prevail among them.

Death in a Well.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug. 19.—After discharging a shot in a new well in Shermantown this morning, Eli Hulcher went down before the smoke had cleared away and was overcome by gas. Lewis Hartman responded to his cries for help. He had hardly reached the bottom before he grew faint. The buckets would not bear two and each wanted the other to go up first. Finally Hartman bundled Hulcher into the bucket and told the men overhead. When nearing the top he fell and narrowly missed Hartman, struck the rock, killing him. Hartman had strength enough to draw himself and the corpse to the bucket, but fainted before he could signal. The men at the windlass saw the rope shake, thought something was wrong and hoisted it. When the bucket and its ghastly burden reached the top many persons fainted. It is thought that Hartman will recover.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The English markets are flooded with California fruit. The Teutonic's cargo brought good figures and will most likely be consumed in London. It is doubtful, however, if the next consignment will fare as well in the matter of prices.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 18.—The Russian minister of railways has issued an edict to the effect that all the superior officials on the Polish railways must henceforth be Russians, and that they are to be given authority to dismiss all Polish subordinate employees and replace them with Russians. The decree has caused great dismay and bitterness among the Poles, and there is general expectation of a wholesale dismissal of Polish railway employees. The Czar has issued a ukase forbidding the Jews in the Caucasus to own or rent petroleum wells. It is alleged that the business of oil production has been gradually falling into the hands of the Jews, some of whom have realized considerable profit.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: Three French officers and a lady have been arrested as spies at Myslowitz, Silesia. Two of the officers had sketches of the country surrounding Neisse and Glatz. They said that they were taking a pleasure trip through Eastern Germany and drew the landscape merely for their own private use.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—The great Westphalia coal syndicate has broken up, owing to the failure of some of its members to keep faith in maintaining prices at the fixed standard.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK.

The Gladstone Government at Work on the Home Rule Scheme —Many Helpers.

Needed Reforms in Great Britain Not to be Neglected by the Government.

The Detection, Trial and Conviction of a Fiendish Murderer in France.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The first meeting of the new cabinet was held to-day. All the members were present. The subject of preparing the Home Rule bill for the meeting of parliament on November 4th is said to have been discussed. It is understood that Irish Chief Secretary Morley has charge of the work under Mr. Gladstone, and is to be especially advised by Chancellor Bryce, Justin McCarthy and Hon. Edward Blake when that gentleman returns from Canada. The coming two months will be almost wholly devoted to this work. So far as domestic affairs is concerned, it is understood British reforms will not be neglected. Chancellor Bryce is determined to push his bill giving access to the people to the mountains of Scotland.

The following additional appointments are officially announced: Mr. Herbert Gladstone, son of the Prime Minister, Under Secretary of the Home Office; Mr. Thos. Burt (Laborist), Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade; Mr. Geo. Granville Leveson-Gower, Comptroller of Her Majesty's Household.

A French Murder.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—One of the most singular criminal cases on record has just been tried in the Meuse assizes. The crime took place in the latter part of last year, at which time Mme. Leblan, the widow of a doctor living at Tilly-sur-Meuse, suddenly disappeared. She lived quite alone, and her absence was not noticed by the neighbors for some days. The door of the house was broken open, and all the rooms found in a state of the utmost disorder, the floor of the kitchen being covered with blood. The plate and various other articles of value had, however, not been touched, though several bank notes—a list of which was afterwards discovered in a drawer—had been removed from the desk in which the money was kept. It was soon ascertained that two of these securities were in the possession of a peasant named Aubertin, who resided in the neighborhood and was known to be deeply in debt. When Aubertin was arrested he denied that he had had any hand in the crime, but it shortly transpired that on the very day when the murder was committed he had bought a couple of pork chops from a local dealer, and there on the dining-room table lay the tell-tale debris. Aubertin, in fact, had known beforehand that his sinister task would occupy several hours, inasmuch as he had determined to cut the body into small pieces, which could easily be disposed of without fear of detection. Accordingly he had bought the chops to refresh himself with, and this circumstance led to his conviction. A few days before the trial some of the fragments of flesh were found near a pier of one of the river bridges, and several pieces of the body have been found from time to time since. Aubertin was condemned to hard labor for life.

An Image of the Virgin.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says: During the last few days the population of St. Petersburg have been deeply moved by the discovery of a miraculous image of the Virgin among the foundations of the church which is being built on the spot where the late Czar Alexander II. was murdered. The discovery is said to have been made by an old woman, to whom the spot where the image was found was revealed by the Virgin herself in a dream. Certain irreverent persons, however, have alleged that the story has been concocted with a view to reviving the zeal of the public, and thus inducing them to subscribe to the building fund of the church, which has fallen off of late.

FALL OF A SAFE.

False Report About Smallpox—Davie Still Defied.

VANCOUVER, Aug 19.—A safe which was taken up-stairs in the new Holland block slipped and came all the way down stairs and shot out on the street. Both safe and building are considerably damaged.

It was reported last evening that there were two more cases of smallpox in the Columbian Hotel. There is no truth in it. The inmates refuse to be transferred to Deadman's Island, but are willing to remain quarantined under guard. The question now is can the Provincial Government force their removal?

L. Boyd, of Boyd & Clendenning, wants to be taken from quarantine at the Columbian Hotel, where he fears infection, and to be placed on Deadman's Island in a tent. James Rogers, another inmate, prays through the papers that he be shielded from infection, as he had not previously mingled with the boarders at meals.

NANAIMO NEWS.

St. Paul's Institute—A Wedding—Mutiny in the North

NANAIMO, Aug. 19.—A general meeting of the members of St. Paul's Institute took place in the hall last evening, the attendance being all that could be wished for. The financial report was submitted by the treasurer and showed that the income for the half year had been $255 49; expenditure, $243 50, leaving a balance of $11.99 in the bank. The liabilities are $171.35, leaving a deficiency of $159.36. Although the liabilities are somewhat beyond the income still great things have been accomplished and greater things are looked for during the next half year so that in every way matters look encouraging.

The election of a president was an easy matter and the honor was accepted by Mr. J. E. R. Tagart, which caused general satisfaction as that gentleman is well known by every person in the city, and besides he is exceedingly popular. Mr. Tagart replied in a few appropriate words for the honor done him and trusted he would be able to give universal satisfaction. Mr. J. McKenzie was appointed secretary, Messrs. Heddle and Diamond attached to the executive committee, and several new members admitted. After other private business was completed the meeting adjourned.

A young man named Tom. Bolton undertook to wrestle young Stewart, the light weight, on Wednesday, in the presence of about a score of spectators. Tom felt confident he was going to down his man and was boasting rather freely of his prowess while stripping. Stewart said nothing but as soon as both men got on the mat he made a rush at Tom and threw him clear over his head. The latter got up quickly but only to be down again and an affectionate squeeze about the throat which left Tom hors de combat.

Mr. Reuben Ferguson, of Cedar district, and Miss Edith Vater were united in marriage at the home of the bride at Wellington on Wednesday night. After the knot had been tied by Rev. J. W. Flinton, the party proceeded to the Wellington hall, where a sumptuous repast was spread before about 50 guests; after the good things had been partaken of music was furnished and the whole party enjoyed themselves in dancing until a late hour.

J. W. Brown, the young miner who attempted to commit suicide a few days ago, was brought before Mr. J. P. Planta yesterday. After being censured and receiving some good advice he was allowed to depart on promising to abstain from drink in the future. Dr. Davis had examined him and found his mental condition to be sound now that the alcohol was out of his system. He paid a fine of $5.25 and departed for more comfortable quarters.

The bark General Fairchild arrived in the harbor from Ounalaska yesterday, and brought the news of the crew of the Glory of the Seas refusing duty on the ground that the provisions were not fit to eat. The captain of the U. S. steamer Yorktown went on board and talked the matter over with the men, the result of which was the men went to work again without any trouble. The Glory of the Seas will have left for this port and the America Behring Sea.

The steamer Cariboo and Fly has recovered the lost propeller and will go on the beach to-day to have it placed in position, after which she will leave for the Skeena river.

Mr. P. Glynn, secretary of the Seamen's Union, received word yesterday from Vancouver of the safety of the Black Boy and her crew. It appears when the boat left here she encountered a heavy gale and was driven up to Texada, where they found shelter until the gale subsided.

The C. W. Wetmore arrived at Departure bay yesterday for a cargo of Wellington coal.

STEVENSON'S JEWELLERY.

It Was Stolen by Jack Lang, Who Was Arrested Last Evening in Seattle.

Jack Lang, who the police suspected had stolen $700 worth of jewellery from W. G. Stevenson's residence, James Bay, was arrested in Seattle last evening after some clever detective work done by Chief Sheppard, assisted by Chief Delaney of Port Townsend.

Shortly after the robbing which occurred about a month ago, Jack Lang, who had been working for Mr. Stevenson and had also been living with him, was missed, and the police, suspecting that he had stolen the jewelry, started a search for him. The out-going boats were closely watched, but without any success. On Tuesday Lang took a small boat from Cadboro Bay and made his way to the American side. Chief Sheppard got wind of the move of the fugitive, and soon had Chief Delaney of Port Townsend at work on the case, with the result as above stated.

When arrested Lang had all of the stolen jewelry in his possession. It is not likely that he will return to Victoria, but Mr. Stevenson and one of Victoria's police officers will go over the Sound this evening to recover the jewelery.

A couple of other Victorians claim that Lang also got the best of them to the extent of several hundred dollars.

Prof. Bryce in the Cabinet—Prorogation of Parliament—Mr. Blake Leaves for Canada.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Cabinet was completed to-day by the appointment of Professor J. Bryce, the distinguished writer and M. P. for South Aberdeen, to be Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, an office held under Lord Salisbury by the Duke of Rutland. This office now carries a seat in the Cabinet. Right Hon. Geo. Shaw-Lefevre was appointed to-day First Commissioner of Public Works and Buildings, an office not in the Cabinet. Right Hon. Edward Marjoribanks has been appointed Parliamentary Under Secretary of the Treasury. Right Hon. J. Thibbert has been appointed Financial Secretary of Treasury. Mr. J. F. Ellis, Nottingham, Richard Knight Causton, West Southwark, and Mr. W. A. McArthur, of Mid Cornwall, have been appointed Junior Lords of the Treasury. Hon. C. H. Spencer has been appointed Vice-Chamberlain of the Household. Hon. George Granville Leveson Gower has been appointed Comptroller of the Household.

Parliament was prorogued this evening until December 4th. The announcement was made in the House of Lords by the Royal Commissioners, Baron Herschel, Earl Spencer, the Earl of Kimberly, the Marquis of Ripon and Viscount Oxenbridge. The House of Commons, which had resumed its sitting a few minutes after 9 o'clock, was summoned to the House of Lords by the Black Rod to hear the prorogation. Five minutes later the Speaker returned without the mace. He withdrew then without having taken the chair, and thus Parliament stood prorogued.

The official dissolution honors have been announced. They include a Marquisate for the Earl of Zetland, late Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; an Earldom for Viscount Cranbrook, late Lord President of the Council; peerages to the Right Hon. Geo. Cubitt, Sir Rainold Knightley, Sir Thomas Brooks, Sir Archibald Campbell of Blythewood, Wm. Tyssen Amherst, Wm. John Leigh, John Mullholland and John Allen, Sir Matthew White, Bidley Brownes, privy councillor, as well as Jesse Collings, M.P., and Alexander Stavely Hill, M.P. Mr. Lawson, of the Daily Telegraph, gets a baronetcy; Ashmead Bartlett, M.P., John Blundell Maple, M.P., and Dr. Smith, the author, receive knighthoods.

The first meeting of the new cabinet was held yesterday. Gladstone presided. The session lasted two hours. The resolutions adopted at the meeting of the Irish societies in Chicago on Monday last are being used by the Unionists to embarrass the Liberals. The Times says one of the principal problems of the separationists is the treatment of political prisoners. The Times regards the meeting at Ogden Grove, Chicago, as proof that the dynamiting spirit is still alive.

Hon. Edward Blake has started for a holiday in Quebec. In a farewell address to the Nationalists in Liverpool, he declared his belief that in the next session, or at latest the session after that, Home Rule for Ireland will become an accomplished fact.

Earthquakes in Britain.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The weather and the earthquakes are dominant topics of conversation throughout England. The interest taken in these manifestations of nature is overshadowing that felt in the incoming of the new Government. Yesterday was the hottest day for many years. The whole past week has, in fact, been phenomenal in respect to heat all over the continent. The heat is of the humid kind, which makes life a burden. Reports of earthquakes are becoming more numerous, and nervous people are getting frightened lest the snug little island may be in danger of some mighty upheaval. Dublin, Wales, Cornwall, Devon, Worcester and Gloucester have experienced the tremors. The sharpest shocks have been at Penzance and Worcester. Severe storms have followed the seismic disturbances, and all over England tonight torrents of rain are falling amid terrific lightning and thunder.

The Kaiser and the Bismarcks.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—There has been some mystery concerning the Emperor's absence from the dinner given by the officers of the Guards on Tuesday evening. The dinner was to commemorate the victory of Mars La-Tour in the Franco-German war. The Emperor had expressly declared that he would be present. At the last moment the committee in charge were notified that the Emperor would not be able to attend. The explanation of this sudden change of mind is found to-day in the accounts of the dinner, which mention that Count Herbert Bismarck and Count William Bismarck were present. Both were formerly officers in the regiments of the Guards now in the Berlin garrison. The Emperor did not learn that they were to be present until shortly before the evening of the dinner. Even the anti-Bismarckians here feel that the Emperor might better have gone, rather than show his dislike of Bismarck through such a petty slight.

HOW TO PREVENT SEASICKNESS.

Two or Three Simple Experiments That Are Worth Trying.

The sensation of seasickness on board a vessel can be lessened, if not prevented, by looking at objects away from the vessel and therefore comparatively fixed, like clouds, the horizon, the shore or a passing vessel, without any part of the vessel intervening. The benefit of the fixation of the eyes on distant objects is not known very extensively, although some extreme sufferers have recognized it as a valuable resource. For moderately susceptible cases that method of preventing sickness has answered extremely well. Another method of preventing seasickness is the complete abolishment of vision for the time being by bandaging the eyes. The bandage should be applied before starting on the voyage.

The method answers extremely well, it is said, in the majority of cases. The patient should lie down also, and get the benefit of the horizontal position, which is an old remedy, although it is known that in several cases bandaging the eyes without lying down has proved to be preventive of seasickness. A point raised against that method is that blind persons are affected by seasickness sometimes, the effect being caused by something besides the visual impressions that affect others. The variations of physique and temperament are very different, and the liability to seasickness varies, but it is probable that in the majority of cases of persons who are liable the prevention of visual disturbance by visual fixation, or by temporary abolition of vision, will be practicable, and that in a small percentage of persons who are liable the abolition of visual action may not be sufficient to prevent sickness.

BRITISH COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

To THE EDITOR:—Kindly permit me to invite special attention to the announcement of the above college, which appears in your columns. The proposal to establish such an institution in the Province has been hailed with the warmest expressions of approval and appreciation by the public generally, showing that it will supply a long and keenly felt want.

Rightly or wrongly, an institution, under the fostering care of some religious denomination, responsible for its social and moral character and tone, and yet free from all sectarianism in its teaching and home influences, is preferred by a majority of those who find it necessary to send their sons and daughters from home to procure a higher education. The college opening on September 1st in this city will be under the auspices of the Methodist Church, but it numbers among its efficient instructors a Presbyterian clergyman and a Baptist physician.

Students, and a liberal financial support from all the Protestant denominations, have already been promised and in each of the three largest cities of the province eligible sites have been offered for permanent location. The managers have, meanwhile, secured a suite of new buildings in the most healthful and pleasantest part of this city as temporary quarters.

The Principal, the Rev. Prof. Whittington, of Victoria University, is a gentleman of high scholastic attainments and large experience in every grade of instruction, from that of the common school to that of the university, and is eminently qualified for his present position.

Miss Lucie H. Hurlburt, M.E.L., after graduating at the Ladies' College, Hamilton, took a special course in Victoria University, studied music in the Cincinnati Conservatory, Ohio, and spent several years in the study of music, art, German and French in the cities of Paris and Berlin. For nine years Miss Hurlburt has been a most successful teacher, her last situation being that of lady principal in Stanstead College, Quebec. Her testimonials are of the very best.

Male students will be under the special care of Professor Whittington, and female students under that of Miss Hurlburt, as regards their home life and manners.

Rev. W. G. Mills, B.A., and Rev. J. J. Ashton, B.A., B.D., are graduates of Queen's University, Kingston, and both are experienced teachers; whilst Dr. Boggs is a graduate of McGill University, Montreal, and one of the leading physicians of the city.

The chief dignitaries of the various religious denominations have been invited to become official visitors to the college. Some have consented and others are yet to be heard from.

It would be well for the parents or guardians of those requiring a higher education, before deciding where to place them, to correspondent with the Principal, or the undersigned.

Yours truly, E. ROBSON.

THE SEATTLE VISITORS.

The aldermen and the officers of the Board of Trade, it may be supposed, are alive to the fact that several hundred leading business men of Seattle will visit Victoria to-morrow afternoon. Whenever representatives of this city have visited Seattle, they have been royally entertained by the civic dignitaries and commercial men of that enterprising city. We do not think that Seattle can excel Victoria in hospitality, when our people make the effort. It is the fear that they may forget to make the effort on the occasion of the excursion to-morrow that induces us to throw out the reminder. Mayor Beaven will be in Nanaimo, attending the labor day celebration, but he has delegated his functions as chief entertainer to Ald. Lovell, who, with the assistance of the other aldermen, and of Messrs. Hall, Flumerfelt and other active members of the Board of Trade, will be expected to make the visit a pleasant one to the visitors. The excursionists will number six or seven hundred, and the trip is made—as one of the promoters wrote to Mayor Beaven—to renew the business relations that existed between the two cities before the late "unpleasantness," which resulted in temporary estrangement and a complete cessation of commercial relations. On such a mission Victorians can do nothing less than extend the Gael's cead mille failthe.

THE BY-LAWS.

It was hardly to be expected that last night's meeting would be kept free from politics. Mayor Beaven in speaking of the Hospital and Board of Health by-laws was in a manner forced to refer to the controversy between the municipal and provincial authorities and to explain the position and actions of the civic government. The Premier in replying to the Mayor's remarks displayed his well known characteristics, chief among them being what the Mayor humorously termed his "sublime cheek." There was also considerable childishness in his contradictions of Mayor Beaven. For instance, what importance was there in his attempt to show that the Mayor was wrong when he said that but for the Ross Bay injunction the Jubilee Hospital grounds would not have been used for a quarantine station? Yet the Premier seemed to lay great stress on this point. In his own remarks at the meeting in his office on Saturday July 9, which were quoted by the TIMES yesterday, mentioned the fact that the residents at Ross Bay were threatening injunction proceedings. Mayor Beaven made a similar announcement. As a matter of fact the interim injunction was granted a very short time after that meeting, and every one knows that the Jubilee scheme was adopted because of the very strong probability of the Ross Bay scheme being blocked. Premier Davie's contentions on this subject last night were childish in the extreme. But they were of the same nature as his speech all through, and it is for this reason that we have said so much in reference to them. We may be allowed to ask in passing why the Premier did not take the opportunity to explain his change of views in regard to provincial and municipal relations since the day of that meeting. These were his opinion then:

The Provincial Government was empowered to appoint health officers where there were no municipalities, but inside municipalities the councils had the matter in their own hands, so that the Government could really do little or nothing

Perhaps the Premier will yet enlighten the public on this matter. Mr. Davie made one rather remarkable exposure of himself, which the Mayor was quick to perceive. He undertook to lay before last evening's gathering some proceedings of the small private conference which was held immediately after the medical men's meeting on the 9th of July. His misstatements were so very like those made in a Colonist article on the same subject some days ago that his authorship of that article was at once made evident. Premier Davie writing editorials for the Colonist is an exceedingly refreshing spectacle.

The malice of the two Davies came out in their opposition to the Board of Health $75,000 by-law. They know, as men not devoid of intelligence, that if this by-law is defeated the civic authorities will be put to serious inconvenience. What a nice thing it is to see the Premier forcing the council with one hand to pay certain accounts and with the other striving to prevent it from getting the necessary money. He says the Council can wait until the bills are all paid and then ask leave to borrow what is needed. How does he know what time the Council will have to wait for this? May it not be so long that his threatened commission to the sheriff will intervene? And in the mean time necessary work has to be delayed because of the diversion of other appropriations to the payment of these smallpox accounts. The public at least ought to see that it is extremely important to have the sums taken away from other work restored as quickly as possible. They can also understand that under the powers to be given by this bylaw the whole sum of $75,000 will not be borrowed unless it is actually needed. We all hope it will not be needed, but it is better to have power to borrow it if necessary. The citizens will also do well to remember that if this by-law is defeated another must necessarily be submitted, because the Council is obliged to raise the money in some way. The submission of another by-law means additional expense, and if the citizens are willing to pay this extra sum out of their own pockets to gratify Davie spite they must have changed very radically in their opinions. The opposition of the two Davies and the Colonist to this by-law is born of "pure cussedness," and it is very much to be hoped that it will not succeed.

THAT VANCOUVER CASE.

It appears that the man Nicolls, who has contracted smallpox at Vancouver, did not work in the C.P.R. freight sheds, but was employed in the railway shops. Our remarks yesterday were based on the Colonist's report, which does not agree with the statements in the Vancouver papers. It may be noted, however, that these latter do not agree with each other. The Telegram says he is a bricklayer, the World describes him as a bricklayer working on the extension of the Hotel Vancouver, and the News-Advertiser says he was working as a carpenter in the C.P.R. shops. It is surely of some importance that the source of his infection should be definitely ascertained, in order that other persons may be protected from contamination in the same place. The News-Advertiser avers that Nicolls was in Victoria for four days, and then went back to Vancouver, but as he had been fourteen days in Vancouver before he became ill, it is hardly possible, even if it be true that he was here, that he could have contracted the disease in this place. Besides, there have been no fresh cases in Victoria for about 17 days. Of the conflict of opinion in regard to quarantining the suspects the News-Advertiser says:—"Instructions came early in the day yesterday from Dr. Davie, Provincial Health Officer, to quarantine the house and remove all the inmates to the suspect station at Deadman's Island. Dr. Herald at once began to make preparations to do so, when the matter was referred to the Mayor and he forbade any such step. The two authorities are, therefore, of different opinions as to how the city should protect itself." Mayor Cope does not seem to have had the fear of the twin autocrats before his eyes. It is stated in this morning's Colonist that the Government "will probably take steps in the matter to-day," but what steps are considered necessary to force the Vancouver authorities to carry out Dr. Davie's directions are not made known. If Premier Davie's arbitrary suspension of Victoria's civic government is a correct precedent, it would seem to be an easy matter for him to reduce the contumacious Vancouver authorities to submission. Perhaps he has one rule for Victoria and another for Vancouver, as his brother had.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Halifax Chronicle has unearthed a scandal connected with the payment of Dominion Government fishing bounties in Nova Scotia. It charges that in one section of Victoria county, Cape Breton, where there are only 60 fishing boats which could come under the act, no less than 170 boats drew bounty. In the vicinity of Grand Narrows ten persons who never lived in the county and three persons who have been dead for some years drew bounties. Bounties were also drawn in the names of four persons who never applied for or received them. It is stated that the Chronicle's expose has created a sensation, but scandals in connection with the Ottawa Government's administration are so numerous that there is not much cause to wonder over this one. Of course the immaculate Sir John Thompson will be horrified by this appearance of corruption in a quarter so near to his own seat.

Dr. Milne has received the following letter from Dr. Peter H. Bryce, secretary of the Ontario Board of Health:

I am exceedingly pleased at receiving your letter and an account of the circumstances as existing with regard to the outbreak in Victoria. I imagine this outbreak will lead to a more true appreciation of the sanitary needs of the province and of the close relationship between it and the outside world. So far we have received only one case from the west, and I hope it will be the last.

Has vaccination been made compulsory, and has it been universally practised in the case of suspects? Had this been done successfully there does not seem to be any good reason why this extensive quarantine of people who had hardly been exposed should have taken place. I think the outbreak will have one good effect in causing the Dominion Government to recognize the need of thorough quarantine defences on the west coast. I understand that they have already passed an order-in-council for a quarantine wharf at Albert Head, which is to be equipped with modern methods of disinfection.

It will no doubt be of interest to a good many people to know that the chief health officer of Ontario does not deem necessary such extensive quarantining of suspects as was insisted on here. He would certainly not have urged the arbitrary exercise of the Government's power for the removal of Dr. Milne because the latter insisted on carrying out the regulations with judgment and discretion. Yet Dr. Bryce has had a great deal of experience with smallpox and has coped with several outbreaks since he was appointed to his present office. It was he who drew up the Ontario health regulations, and he may certainly be considered a safe guide in such matters.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

There are more cheering signs of activity on the streets to-day than have existed yet this summer. Mechanics busy with hammer and saw, mallet and trowel, are toiling with might and main to redeem the past, and but few are looking on with envious eyes as in a few weeks past. Many mechanics, no doubt, left the city and found work elsewhere, thus somewhat reducing the number of the unemployed. At the same time there are not a few who have been anxiously looking out for weeks and who tell me they are no nearer the goal now than some weeks back. I sincerely hope that the Victoria and Sydney railroad or the various works that the new by-laws provide for will be pushed to the front as quickly as possible.

The drama presented on the boards of the city hall last evening was too congested. It was difficult for the average citizen to appreciate the whole of the "bill of fare." Evidently the meeting — good-humored and good-tempered—had such diverse opinions upon the five proposed by-laws that no speaker could possibly please the audience if he discussed all of them. I think the "retorts courteous" between the Mayor and the Premier were the best bits of acting. It seemed likely to have the appearance of a duel at one time, for both these gentlemen appeared together before the audience, each with fiery indignation in his eye. Fortunately the mild-tempered chairman interposed his portly form as an impassable barrier. The bull-dogism of the Premier appeared a fair match for the persuasive logic of the Mayor, yet I doubt not if put to the vote the latter would have been sustained as the leading actor. At the close of the piece neither, however, was called before the curtain.

There is great utility in these public meetings. Conservatives and Reformers approve of them because each side can show that they are in accordance with their own peculiar institutions. Conservatives can point to the ancient practices of Romans and Greeks, whose leading orators addressed the citizens upon momentous public questions, and Reformers can show that they are in full accord with the advanced spirit of the age. Besides, it fosters public interest in important questions, gives a vent to suppressed indignation, and supplies a fulcrum to remove an unpopular government from power.

The members for the city were conspicuous by their absence, the mayor alone sustaining the double role of M.P.P. and adviser of the city corporation. I certainly expected to have heard from Dr. Milne, and wondered he did not attempt to justify his position before the citizens. Hon. J. H. Turner, as sewerage commissioner, might have enlightened his constituents as to sewerage matters, but presumably the junior member for the city deemed "discretion the better part of valor." QUIZ.

A HOSPITAL NEEDED.

TO THE EDITOR:—I consider it very necessary that the by-law for a hospital for the city should carry by a large majority from the very fact that we want a place to build a contagious hospital. See how the city authorities were hampered in the last epidemic of smallpox. They had no place for such people, and it behoves every citizen to vote for the by law as it will not only provide hospital room but also a place for a crematory which we must have at an early day.

Official notification has been received by Mr. J. L. Murphy, president of the Western Central Labor Union, of his appointment by President Gompers as general organizer for British Columbia and Washington of the American Trades Federation.

Could Not Find the Body.

Sergt. Langley, of the provincial police, this morning received a telegram from Officer McNeil, who went to Otter Point to look for the body of the Indian woman drowned near Albert Head last Saturday. The officer stated that up to noon to-day he had been unable to find the woman's body. It is thought that the Indians have removed it.

At the Police Court.

The docket at the police court this morning was light. A drunk paid $5, and a driver of a delivery wagon paid a like amount for leaving his horse on the street untied. V. S. Bossi paid $2 dog tax and also $2 fine. The case of Low Chue charged with aggravated assault upon Chin Hing, was again remanded for a week, the complainant being too weak to appear in court.

Officially Visited the Lodge.

On Wednesday evening Mr. J. E. Phillips, of New Westminster, Grand Master of the I.O.O.F. in B.C., officially visited Columbia Lodge, No. 2, in this city and delivered a very interesting address on team work and the progress of the order in the province and elsewhere. There was a good attendance of members and Mr. Phillips' remarks were listened to with attention.

Speedy Trials.

Ah Slick, charged with the larceny of $20 from W. Lomax and W. King, charged with the larceny of clothes from Williams & Co., Johnson street, were taken before Mr. Justice Drake this forenoon and asked whether they wished to elect a summary trial before a judge without a jury or wait until the next assizes. They chose the former course and the trial was set down for Thursday next.

Major Clark, who has been conferring with the Provincial Government for some time past on the crofter colonization scheme, left for England this morning. He has arrived at an understanding with the Government and will be able to form his company as soon as he arrives in London. The preliminary arrangements will be made this fall and the transportation of the crofters will commence in the early spring.

More Campers.

The comfortable spots along the Arm which were last week deserted by campers have again been occupied by new arrivals who the recent fine weather has brought out. The point just opposite the old Ker farm has been taken charge of by a party of ladies and gentlemen. They expect to make it one of the brightest spots on the Arm as soon as they get settled. The Snuggeries camp just below the Gorge is one of the attractions along the Arm.

Still Under Examination.

Captain Lachlan, who is examining the San Pedro to report upon her condition to the Merritt Wrecking Company of New York and decide whether the steamer can be raised or not, when spoken to by a TIMES reporter this afternoon said that the examination was not completed yet and that he could not say anything about the matter for some days. The captain and his assistants spent most of the day at the wreck taking bearings and soundings.

Should be Entertained.

The steamer City of Seattle will leave Seattle at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning with between 500 and 800 business men of Seattle and their families. The party will arrive here about one o'clock, and leave again at four for home, going by the way of Seattle. The excursion is under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of Seattle, and on this account the Board of Trade and Mayor and Aldermen of the city should entertain the visitors. All that would be necessary would be to meet them at the boat and see that they are made to feel thoroughly at home.

A Wild Ride.

Yesterday evening, Joe Bedard, one of the boys employed by the District Telegraph Company, started out from Courtnay's stables with a horse and side saddle to be delivered on View street. The boy mounted and the horse immediately started off on a lope. Both seemed to get excited and the steed broke into a run, going up Fort street at a terrific pace. It tried to turn at the Blanchard street corner, but stambled and went headlong to the ground. The boy sat firmly in the saddle till the horse fell, when he rolled off, and fortunately was not injured. The horse was bruised in several places and bled from a wound on the head. It went back to the stable quietly.

Out Salmon Fishing.

There are at present but three Indian families on the Songish reserve all the rest being out fishing. Some of them are up on the Fraser River fishing while others are supplying the city with salmon from off Brotchie Ledge and Beecher Bay. The salmon are quite thick off the harbor and the Indians are making good catches. A number of local fishermen are also enjoying the sport. The best time to go out is between 5 and 7 in the morning and between the same hours in the evening. A three pronged hook and a spoon bait is mostly used, the Indians attaching a piece of buckskin to their hooks. In the morning light sinks are mostly used by those who understand the ways of the salmon. In the evening they use heavier sinks.

A Good Opening.

It is reported that the Saanich lime kiln is for sale, or will shortly be offered. The property is located at Millstream, and comprises 220 acres of land, patent draw kiln and buildings. Some person on the look out for a business opening will no doubt snap it up quick.

Cattle from Kamloops.

Last night the Yosemite brought over for Porter & Sons 80 head of beef cattle and 30 calves, shipped from Kamloops. The beeves were from the Douglas Lake Cattle company's ranges and the calves from the ranche of J. T. Edwards, who has contracted to furnish Porter & Sons with 80 calves a month.

Will Ride Again.

Mr. Jensen, proprietor of the Dallas hotel, has decided that those wishing to go from town to the Dallas, outer wharf or beach, will not have to walk after 1 o'clock to-morrow. At that time he will start a line of busses running from the postoffice to the above places. They will run every thirty minutes and like on the cars the fare will be five cents.

Death of Mrs. McLellan.

Mrs. A. J. McLellan, who for years has been a sufferer from cancer, died yesterday afternoon at her residence on the Gorge road. The deceased lady's death had been expected hourly for several weeks, but the blow will nevertheless be a severe one to her many friends in Victoria, where she has resided since 1865. She was a daughter of Geo. A. Morten, J. P., of Sussex, N. B., which place she left with her husband in 1865, coming directly to Victoria. Mrs. McLellan was a member first of the Pandora Avenue Methodist church and afterwards of the Centennial Methodist church. She took a great interest in church work and has done a lot of good, making friends of all whom she met. She was also connected with the W. C. T. U. and Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church, and did all in her power to help them in the work for which they are intended. Mrs. McLellan was 55 years of age. The funeral will take place on Saturday at 2:30 from the family residence on the Gorge road.

Tampered With the Certificate.

Yesterday a man called upon deputy provincial health officer Dr. Watt and asked for a certificate of successful vaccination, stating that he was going out on the boat that night. The circumstances being favorable the passport was duly issued and the man took his departure. The same evening he returned and wanted another vaccination passport to enable a friend of his, as he alleged, to get on board the boat to see a lady passenger who was there. Dr. Watt smelt a rat and went down to the wharf and asked the wharfinger if any lady had gone on board. The wharfinger replied that one was then on board. Dr. Watt demanded her vaccination certificate; it was the same that he issued to her husband earlier in the day. The man had added an "s" to the "Mr." making it "Mrs. ——" and so had easily deceived the examiner at the boat. The forgery is very clumsily done, the added letter sloping the wrong way and being inscribed in different colored ink. The case will be reported to the proper authorities.

THE B. C. EXHIBITION.

The Directors of the Agricultural Association Preparing for the Fair.

The directors of the British Columbia exhibition are determined to make their exhibition this year the greatest thing of the kind ever held in the province, and yesterday evening met in W. H. Bainbridge's office for the transaction of business in connection with the fair. There were present W. H. Ellis in the chair, W. H. Bainbridge, Provincial Inspector E. Hutcherson and Messrs. W. Lorimer, N. Shakespeare, R. Seabrook, S. F. Tolmie, H. King, W. J. Pendray, T. W. Carter, D. R. Ker, J. Holland, C. E. Renouf, G. A. Perrin and M. Baker.

After routine business a communication from Hon. D. W. Higgins, president of the N. E. T. & L. Co., re special arrangements for transportation to the grounds, was read. The secretary was instructed to reply to the president and directors of the tramway, urging them to make a special effort to meet the necessity of quick and cheap service during the exhibition week.

The president, the chairman of the finance committee and the secretary were appointed a committee to devide the city into districts and arrange for a systematic canvass of the same for subscriptions necessary to carry on the exhibition. It was also decided to ask the city for a grant of $1000 to assist the fair.

It was decided to appoint a responsible man as superintendent of the exhibition, and applications for the position will be asked by advertisement.

The one-judge system was decided on and the directors are confident that it will prove most satisfactory.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with the Government with regard to improving the Edmonton and Richmond roads leading to the Driving Park, and the meeting then adjourned.

THE OAR.

TO-MORROW'S WATER CARNIVAL.

The managing committee, members and friends of the James Bay Athletic Association earnestly hope that the general public will keep off the course on Saturday afternoon, and give the competitors a fair chance. Persons who row up and down and across a course probably do not think of or realize the injustice they do, not to mention the annoyance at all. For their information the following case may be taken as an example of what might happen. Crews A and B, well matched and doing their best, are coming down the course; neither has gained the slightest advantage; it is a neck-and-neck race so far. Suddenly an ordinary rowboat loaded with well-meaning but careless people, paddles right into the fair way of crew B. The bow oar sees them, puts his helm hard down and yells to the obstructors to back off. Already the crew have lost half a length through the swerve. Crew A are making the most of the affair. Crew B finally get clear, and put on a spurt to reduce distance. They are, of course, too late, and so lose the cups or trophies through no fault of their own. Sometimes the better crew are balked in this way. Only men who have trained hard for three months, denied themselves all the luxuries of life, and spent hours at the oars in practice can understand the bitterness of such a defeat and of such injustice. All the consolation they get, as a rule, is a sympathising "Too bad," or "Deuced hard luck, old chaps," from their comrades. To obviate any chance of such a regretable occurrence at the regatta on Saturday, all the contestants being so well matched that it is impossible to choose a favorite, the public are requested to kindly keep the course clear. The arrangements for to-morrow afternoon's water festival are nearly completed, and if the weather be fine everybody will have a good time. There will be plenty of good music, and the events on the programme are to be called with promptness, and the competitors sent off on time. The swimming race is expected to provide plenty of fun for the spectators. Some excellent time has been made in practice by some of those who will compete.

MUSIC AND REFRESHMENTS.

By the kind permission of Colonel Holmes and the officers of C Battery, the battery band will be in attendance during the J.B.A.A. annual regatta to-morrow afternoon and will discourse at intervals choice selections from the popular operas and other pleasing music in their wonted excellent style. The following ladies have most kindly provided light refreshments for the club's visitors and will see that the courtesies of the occasion are extended to everyone present: Mrs. E. Crow Baker, Mrs. McTavish, Mrs. Helmcken, Mrs. Archdeacon Scriven, the Misses White of Ottawa, Miss Mouat and Miss Lawson. The suggestion is respectfully thrown out to the honorable chairman of the streets committee that the street sprinkler pay a visit to the water front in the neighborhood of the club house, as the dust there is very thick and will probably give considerable annoyance to all when the carriages began to arrive.

BILLIARDS.

THE EXPERTS IN PARIS.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—Ives played a game of cushion caroms at the Folies Bergere yesterday afternoon with Gay, 125 points up. He won with a score of 125 points to Gay's 80. In the evening Ives played Goffart a balk line game of 300 points up, beating him by 48 and making the biggest single break on record at the Folies Berger during the season, 219 points. At the Vigneaux, Schaefer played Goffart 100 points, conceding the latter 25 points. Goffart won, Schaefer making only 48. In response to the open challenge issued by Ives to play any professional in France, Gay has accepted and will play a balk-line game of 800 points up, in any hall in Paris that may be mutually agreed upon, outside of the two academies. The game is to be for $500 a side, the winner to take the receipts and pay the expenses.

LACROSSE.

It is probable that there will be a double attraction in lacrosse on Saturday, the 27th. The Vancouver intermediates have been invited to meet the local second twelve on the Caledonian grounds here, the game to be played just before the championship match between the Westminsters and the Victoria seniors.

PRINTERS VS. FIREMEN.

The printers and firemen are making arrangements to play a lacrosse match in the near subsequently. The type slingers should extinguish the water slingers at this game as they have had more practice with the "stick."

THE TURF.

THE RUBBER TIRE.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 17.—The Sportsman claims that the rubber tire is three seconds faster than the kind Maud S. used; that Nancy Hanks must therefore go three seconds better than Maud S. to equal her.

CANADIAN TROTTING RECORD.

At the Wodbine Driving Club's races at Toronto the bay gelding J. B. Richardson, of Rochester, N.Y., made the fastest mile ever trotted in Canada—2:17.

WHEELING.

FAST RIDING IN THE EAST.

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—J. Smith of this city rode a bicycle for five miles at the Woodbine track yesterday in 13:49⅕, breaking the Canadian record for that distance.

SARNIA, Aug. 18.—Zimmerman rode a bicycle one mile in 2:26, and two miles in 5:3 2 5, beating the Canadian records for both. Sanger, of Milwaukee, lowered the flying start quarter of a mile to thirty-two seconds.

BASEBALL.

Manager Baker of the V.A.C. ball team is making arrangements for a game to be played here on the 3rd of September. He is in correspondence with several of the Sound teams and is confident of securing one to play a match on the date mentioned. Manager Jackson of the James Bays says that when he gets through with the regatta on Saturday next he will get the Bay boys together again and see what can be done toward providing amusement for lovers of the diamond game.

CANOEING.

A "nest" of five canoes, fresh from the factory at Peterboro, were brought to the city yesterday for parties who are going in for this kind of boating. Canoeing is becoming more popular every day, and the city fleet will be increased to a hundred by next season. Orders for twenty more of these crafts have been sent from the city to the eastern factories.

THE DOUGLAS' TRIP.

The Somass River Buoys Renewed — A Kindness to Fishermen.

The Sir James Douglas returned from a 10 days' cruise in Barclay Sound, this afternoon. During her absence from Victoria the new and flourishing town of Alberni was visited, and the whole of the buoys marking the channel across the bar of the Somass River renewed.

From Alberni the Douglas proceed to Castle Islet and upon it built a new beacon, 50 feet high. This beacon, in conjunction with the one on Round Islet, marks the fairway of the western channel into the sound. Before leaving, both buoys were whitewashed. Whilst lying at anchor off Castle Islet some Indians brought on board a sea otter skin, but as the price asked was $100 no purchaser was found. On the return trip Cape Beale and Carmanah lighthouses were visited. Between Cape Beale and the latter lighthouse a small sloop was seen under the land, upon being examined she turned out to be a fishing boat from Victoria, out since August 5th. Her crew reported having been anything but fortunate, but had on board then about a dozen freshly caught and fine halibut, which they thought of throwing overboard in a day or two as it was not worth while returning such a distance with so few. Captain Walbran offered to take them to Victoria for the men, the offer was gladly accepted and the fish were duly delivered in the city to-day. The weather the first few days of the trip was wet and stormy, but the latter part was very fine and the beautiful scenery and islands of Barclay Sound were seen to every advantage. A homeward bound sealer was seen in the straits off Sherringham Point, but too far off to signal—a dead calm at the time.

GAZETTE NOTICES.

The B. C. Gazette, issued last evening, contains a few interesting notices.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Ratepayers and Representatives Discuss the Five By-Laws Last Night.

The Mayor and Attorney-General Have a Slight Difference of Opinion.

It was 8:15 last night when Mayor Beaven called the public meeting in the city hall to discuss the several by-laws to be voted upon next Monday to order and moved that Mr. Simeon Duck take the chair. This motion carried unanimously. Mr. Duck accepted the post and said he thanked the audience for their confidence, but had not much to say on the subject, as he had not given it as much thought as was perhaps necessary. He then called upon Mayor Beaven to explain his views on the question.

The Mayor said he looked upon corporation matters as a sort of joint stock company; the council the directors, the ratepayers the shareholders. He thought it only right that the ratepayers should be asked to meet the council and hear what they had to say in the matter. He would speak shortly upon the sewerage loan by-law to borrow $300,000 to be expended in finishing the work within the city, marked in white on a large map near the chair. He did not propose to say anything about the separate system; he was not an engineer. When the matter was brought before a former council $300,000 was asked for sewering a portion of the city; this sum only netted some $264,000, and this was all expended, and unless funds were provided by some means it would simply mean stoppage of the works. It would not be a great benefit to the city to have all that pipe buried in the streets. He favored the local improvement system when the sewerage question came up. But a former council had decided to ask $300,000, begun it in that way and it was perhaps wise to continue and finish it in that way. But he still favored the local improvement system. The territory within the white lines should contribute largely towards the interest and sinking fund. This was a matter of detail for future consideration. He thought it would be fair that those most directly benefited should provide the interest and sinking fund. The loan asked was for 50 years at 4½ per cent. If any one would work it out it would be found there was no better system than to vote for the by-law on the understanding that a local improvement by-law will be brought forward later. By adopting that system throughout the city it would be most profitable for all the ratepayers in all parts of the city. If the frontage of the property to be benefited were worked out on the local improvement system it would be found that the sum per lot would be infinitely less than by any other way. There was no particular benefit in having the sewers along the centre of the streets without having the branch sewers which were urgently required; they should be put in with some discretion and judgment. It is far better when opening up a street to finish all the work at one time. All the streets have to be opened up again to put in the branch sewers. That has been one of the great difficulties in this city. It was a great waste of money. The next by-law in magnitude was the one to sanction a loan of $100,000 for a city hospital. He was glad to see a formidable array of the Jubilee Hospital people present. The city had felt this year the absolute necessity of having a place to treat infectious diseases of all kinds. He had no wish to irritate the Jubilee gentlemen, but he thought it would have been wise for them to have acceded to the city's proposal to take over the hospital. (Applause.) It was always in debt and difficulties of one kind and another. In their charter is one of the most extraordinary propositions he ever heard. Every one who subscribes $5 to the hospital is made a stockholder; each one who so subscribes thus becomes personally liable for the hospital's debts. The answer was, of course, that there would be no debt; it would be all cleared off. He thought the city ought to have charge of the hospital; it would be well managed. He could say without fear of contradiction that the city managed its business in a business-like way. It would have paid the city this year alone had it had a hospital of its own. Of course the council had been severely criticised by the party organs of the Government regarding the management of the smallpox matter. He had no hesitation in saying that had the city possessed a place of its own and not been hampered with injunctions and other obstacles they could have handled the smallpox without the smallest trouble. (Applause.) To clear away some delusions about the smallpox he could explain that he knew last spring that smallpox was epidemic in Japan; 800 cases in one city. The steamers kept coming here and cases began to spring up. The authorities here were on their guard; they knew all about it and took all reasonable precautions. The Mayor then described the difficulty the city council encountered in getting a place for a smallpox hospital, and eulogised Col. Prior for his kind assistance in the matter. His Worship next outlined the spread of the disease in Vancouver and this city. He acknowledged the courtesy shown him by the premier, Hon. Theo. Davie. The history of the injunctions, etc., was then exhaustively treated. When the Jubilee quarantine station was allowed to be occupied the trouble was at an end. He felt sure the editors of the city would not feel so much like criticising the action of the council in this matter when they were made fully aware of the facts. It was not a very difficult thing to manage anything, the smallpox epidemic for instance, when all the work was done. (Applause.) Smallpox and politics did not run together, however. Had the city owned a piece of ground of its own for such uses, all this late trouble would have been averted; valuable lives would have been saved, he believed. The interference with private rights which had occured would not have happened. He fully endorsed Dr. Milne's action in all he had done. (Applause.) Had the city had a hospital the trouble would have been handled much more cheaply and without the loss of human life. The rules which had been issued were totally unnecessary; they only served to publish the trouble abroad. This was the third time in his recollection that smallpox had occurred in this city, and there had been no trouble on the other occasions. It was in order to prevent such lamentable accurrences happening here again that the city council asked the ratepayers for the money to procure a site and build a hospital. The city was exposed to epidemics from China and Japan and was unprovided with a hospital. What was wanted was a hospital fully under municipal control. The ratepayers, if they authorized this loan, would be doing what was in the interest of every citizen of Victoria. The next proposition was for a grant of $75,000 for the board of health. Had there been a hospital here a third of that sum would not have been necessary. His Worship then explained the reasons why $75,000 was asked, and not $50,000 as had been suggested. The money would be used only if required. All bills should be met and paid honorably. If this loan were sanctioned the credit of the city would be protected and the debts paid. Nobody with the true interests of the city at heart would vote against this loan. Much of it had been incurred through the exercise of an arbitrary power, which he was sorry to see rising in this province. (Applause.) The next matter was the loan of $60,000 for electric lighting, which Ald. McKillican would fully explain. The public library loan was to more fully equip that institution and put it on a better footing than it was at present. It had been found that the sums appropriated formerly scarcely sufficed to pay salaries. The salary of the librarian had to be reduced in consequence. There would hardly be found any one to object to this loan. It was a mere bagatelle in any case. He saw his legal friend the Attorney-General present, and if there were any legal points to discuss, he (the Mayor) would be glad, although a layman, to take a hand in it. (Laughter and applause.) He then bespoke a patient hearing for all who were to speak. (Hearty applause followed the Mayor's remarks).

Ald. McKillican next spoke and explained the electric light loan by-law and the objects for which it was required. The engine in the power house at present was more suitable for running a sawmill than an electric works. There was great difficulty in keeping up the electric light. They were working at great disadvantage and the results were very unsatisfactory. The engine would not make the proper number of revolutions to supply proper light. If a light were placed in the suburbs one in the city had to be extinguished. It was necessary for the citizens to vote for this loan if they wanted proper lighting in this city. There was a constant risk of a break down, which would leave the city in almost total darkness. He hoped the ratepayers would grant the loan.

Hon. Theo. Davie next took the platform. He said he had come to state and prove a few facts. He had armed himself with a scrap book with which to controvert some of Mayor Beaven's statements. The Mayor said that the Jubilee Hospital grounds had been refused the city for a smallpox hospital. On the contrary all the medical men, including Dr. Davie, at the meeting held in his (the Attorney-General's) office, approved of the Jubilee Hospital ground being used for smallpox purposes. It was true it was proposed at that time to use the infectious ward, but it was concluded that it would not be advisable; then the proposition was made that the ground should be used and tents, hospital and necessary buildings erected at once. The proposition was made to Mayor Beaven that these buildings should be erected, and he combatted the suggestion for nearly an hour. It was only after a good deal of bullying that he was persuaded to allow the buildings to go up. The TIMES had distributed with one of its editions a copy of the order-in-council, and had written editorials on the subject saying that the smallpox under these regulations would soon be stamped out. The TIMES was then against the Government; it always was (laughter, and a voice, "No wonder," and roars of laughter). The speaker then descanted upon the statement that lives had been lost by the action of the Provincial authorities, and attempted to show that the civic authorities were to blame all through. Nobody was to blame for the death of young McKay.

Here a man rose in the audience and indignantly denied this; several others corroborated his statement. Some confusion ensued, Mr. Davie threatening to expose the reason why one of his tormentors was speaking.

Mr. Davie, continuing, said he thought that the $75,000 loan for smallpox expenditures absurd. The expenses up to the end of July of the Jubilee Hospital were only $11,000, and to the end of this month $15,000. The total expense at Ross Bay was $7500, totalling for smallpox expenses something like $22,000. There were other smaller items of expense of course, but he would like to know why the city wanted to go borrowing more than double what was required for this purpose. If the council estimated the expenses at $75,000 and the expenses were only as he estimated, he wanted to know where the economy came in. As to the charge of autocracy on his part, if that meant the passage of stringent regulations and strict attention to the payment of the workmen's wages, then he was an autocrat. The autocratic resolutions had succeeded in stamping out smallpox in this city, and he thought that was the kind of autocracy that should always prevail. It was utterly unnecessary to raise $75,000, or indeed any sum, at present. He then spoke upon the proposed hospital. This was even more unnecessary than the $75,000. Dr. Milne was the first proposer of this hospital. He pleaded that there was no hospital for the poor man in this city. Dr. Milne was astray in his facts. The speaker then gave statistics as to the admission of poor patients into the Jubilee Hospital; in a short given period 499 persons had been treated free of charge. "Those who bestow charity are those who do not talk about it very much." The Jubilee Hospital did not sound a trumpet before it when it gave away its alms. The estimated value of the hospital was $125,000. He then showed that it was not much encumbered with debt. There was no hospital required here for the treatment of infectious diseases, for if infectious diseases were put in such a hospital it would simply turn it into a pest house, and a pest house could be erected for much less than a hospital. The application for this hospital and sum for health purposes was a fraud. He hoped that ratepayers would defeat both these by-laws.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Mayor Beaven in replying said one trait of his learned and esteemed friend's character he always admired, and that was his sublime cheek. (Roars of laughter). The Attorney-General had attempted to deceive the audience. There was a whole stack of accounts in the office which must be paid. These rules which the Attorney-General had been at so much trouble and pains to draw up, they were enough to puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer (great laughter), simply amounted to this, that they gave him the authority to place the sheriff in possession, and the money can be collected under these rules, but the Attorney-General came here to-night and advised the ratepayers not to grant the money to pay the bills. (Tremendous applause, mingled with hisses for the Attorney-General.)

The Attorney-General denied that he had counselled the ratepayers not to pass the by-law so that the sheriff might be put in possession. He referred to the Mayor's letter, which states that the Attorney-General had not the legal power to carry out his threats.

The Mayor said that the Attorney-General's interference in municipal matters had caused all the trouble. (Applause.) Since he had given the Attorney-General some legal advice without charging him six and eightpence for it either (laughter) he believed that gentleman would be very glad to get out of placein, the sheriff in possession. The Attorney-General merely wanted to get the city into litigation and he (the speaker) hoped none of the audience would be led astray by his line of argument. The Mayor then refuted one after another a number of minor statements made by the Attorney-General, explaining why he hesitated about the erection of the buildings at Jubilee Hospital. He merely asked Mr. Hayward as to the quantity of lumber required for the buildings. Mr. Hayward had perhaps told Mr. Davie and he had gone straightway and written an article in the Colonist about it; it was on a par with the rest of their yarns. (Laughter and applause.)

Ald. Baker next sarcastically referred to the quarrel between the Attorney-General and the Mayor and then spoke upon the sewerage system. There had been no test of the sewers, yet they came here and asked $300,000 to carry on the work. Had the sewerage engineer known his business he would not have permitted such work to be done. He was glad the sewers had been lowered; otherwise they would have been no better than surface drains. The connections should have been put in when the excavations were made for the main pipes. Victoria had benefited very little by the $300,000 voted already for the sewers. A class of labor of no benefit to this city had been employed. He had no intention of attacking Mr. McBean; he could not attack him for hiring the labor he had, as that was his own business.

Mr. McBean—"How could we make the connections last year when there was no law to do it under?"

Ald. Baker could not give a reply. He said he would like to see the electric lights taken off the high poles and put on lower ones.

Mr. McDonald, one of the contractors who tendered for the sewerage, then spoke upon the question. He gave a number of details regarding the work. Little more than a quarter of the area estimated on was now completed, and he would like to know if there still remained over $100,000 to go on with or were the bills of quantities furnished originally to the tenderers a farce. He then proceeded to show that there had been some discrepancies regarding the Johnson street sewer, whereby he had, though bidding lower, lost the contract. Mr. McBean had been much higher than the speaker. Mr. McDonald then gave technical details comparing his prices with Mr. McBean's. He thought that brick sewers would be much more durable than cement sewers, besides being much cheaper. Surface drains would be better at present, he thought, than sewers; he was in favor of a combined system; it was was cheaper and much more satisfactory. It would cost a good many million dollars to finish the sewerage of this city.

Dr. Sproule said there was one aspect of the sewerage question the preceding speakers had not touched upon, namely the health question in regard to sewerage. In walking along what would yet, he believed, become the main thoroughfare of this city, Douglas street, he came upon an open drain which had no covering or attempt at such. He found on enquiry that the rest of the city's sewerage was in an equally primitive state. The doctor then went on to show that these open sewers were the direct breeders of disease. Where this drain he had mentioned was situated the greatest number of cases of smallpox occurred, and the greatest number of cases would occur there in future if the present system of sewerage in existence were not abolished. He would not insult the intelligence of the ratepayers by supposing that they would vote against this by-law. He then drew a parallel between the condition of the city of New Orleans and that of Victoria, which he considered similar.

Dr. Davie then took the platform. He said that when the people of Victoria elected Mayor Beaven they imagined that there would be an end of those loan by-laws, but there were five here this evening. Some of these were necessary, such as the sewerage; a first-class system of sewerage was necessary in this city. Many diseases were the direct result of bad sewerage or no sewerage. Smallpox was not a disease caused by bad or defective drainage. The speaker then gave a professional explanation of the spread of smallpox. He then said that in Chinatown, which bore the palm for bad sanitary conditions, no cases of smallpox occurred at all. Insanitary conditions had nothing to do with smallpox. He thought the city authorities were making a sad mess of this sewerage system, putting down the sewers in the middle of the streets and making no connections. The sanitary engineer he believed was not to blame. He had been informed that the true policy of the council was to get rid of Mr. McBean and the commissioner, get the work into their own hands and do it by day's work. Regarding the city hospital, he thought it totally unnecessary. No deserving case had been refused at Jubilee Hospital. The same could be said of St. Joseph's Hospital. In his opinion the city council would not make a good body to conduct such a hospital. They might have representatives on the board. He did not believe Mayor Beaven was sincere in this hospital proposition; it was merely a political pretext of his. (Hisses and disturbance.) It was most nubusinesslike, to his mind, to ask for a lump sum such as $75,000, when nothing like that would be required. The whole cost of the epidemic was in the neighborhood of $23,000. It was not wise to put $75,000 in the hands of the council. In reference to the death of McKay, the brother of the victim stated to him (the speaker) that McKay was expected to die any moment. He hoped the ratepayers would defeat the health and hospital by-laws.

Mr. Marchant spoke in favor of the extension of the electric light to the suburbs, but was not in favor of the city hospital at present. It was too early to establish such an institution here. Although constantly interrupted by the large portion of the hoodlum element in the back portion of the hall, Mr. Marchant scored some telling points against the Davie brothers, and was roundly applauded. He plainly showed the danger to which the province was exposed by having such a man as Hon. Theodore Davie at the head of affairs, a post for which the speaker considered him eminently unfit. This opinion was received with thunderous applause. Here a drunken rowdy at the back of the hall became so unruly that the speaker could not make himself heard above the terrific uproar. Two-thirds of the audience shouted for Mr. Marchant to proceed with his remarks; the remainder screamed, yelled and whooped, rattled the benches and stamped their feet like maniacs in the endeavor to prevent him doing so. Mr. Marchant then left the platform and pandemonium reigned in the hall for a few minutes. An old resident remarked to a TIMES reporter who was present that it was the most disgraceful scene he ever witnessed in Victoria, and plainly showed the folly of so-called public meetings to discuss civic business. The meeting broke up in great disorder about 11:30 p.m.

THE KOOTENAY COUNTRY.

Some New Strikes Reported—Forest Fires—General News.

From the Miner.]

F. S. Barnard has bought J. Fred Hume's waterworks shares.

Messrs. Rolfe and Goepel will erect a sawmill at Fredericton. The machinery is on its way here.

The first marriage held in the Church of England mission room was celebrated on Monday, the 18th instant, when Walter George Perkins, of Nelson, became the husband of Susan Harriet Adelia Hovel, of Esquimalt, B.C.

Regular passenger traffic will be commenced on the Great Northern at Bonner's Ferry on the 17th, and regular freight traffic on the 14th. The steamer Nelson has altered her days of sailing to fit in. She will also take in Kaslo on every trip, both coming and going.

The 1st of July celebration committee report receipts of $874.15 and expenditure $884.25, leaving a deficit of about $10.

The shareholders of the Consumers' Waterworks Company held their first annual general meeting on August 10th, when the following directors were appointed: F. S. Barnard, president; J. F. Hume, vice-president; A. E. Hodgins, secretary-treasurer; and J. A. Mara, J. A. Gilker, W. F. Teetzel and W. J. Wilson.

Of the Silver King sale nothing is positively known. One cable has been received, but it merely stated the safe arrival in Scotland of the party. Senator McInnis, who was in Nelson this week, seemed to be familiar with the men who were interested in the deal, and, according to his account, they are the principal shareholders in the Tharsis Copper company.

The Major, a well-known inhabitant of Balfour, has made a strike somewhere between the Ainsworth and Slocan mining divisions. The ore is very high grade.

Smith, who was connected with the Nelson Brewery company, has made a strike in the Slocan district. He claims to have a foot of solid ore running high in antimonial silver.

A mistake was made in last week's report of the assay on Harry Ward's claim, the Monogram. It was stated that it went over 250 ounces in gold. It should have been $250 of course.

Last week a fire broke out in the blacksmith shop on the Bonanza King. It spread through the surrounding brush, and was checked with difficulty before it had swept off the whole camp and outfit on the claim.

Forest fires have been running all over the Slocan country to the danger and discomfort of prospectors. These fires, however, may clean up to some extent and enable a few more of its hidden treasures to be found this autumn.

Tom Collins came into Nelson last night, footsore and weary. He reports that the tunnel of the Lizzie C. is in 205 feet; that 25 feet more ought to tap the ledge, and that he just escaped scaring a large brown bear to death on Wednesday night last.

Harold Selous has received specimens from the Annie which show marked improvement in the claim as depth is gained. The ore is galena and copper, and is very like some of the Dandy ore. Mr. Selous is to be congratulated if the mine proves to be a second Dandy.

The rights of the Kootenay Bonanza's action against Durkin have never been rightly known in Nelson. The fact is that Durkin vindicated his right to buy the right, title and interest in anything that anybody owned and wanted to sell, and left the company the somewhat barren satisfaction of sueing J. Cobaugh for breach of agreement. The outcome has been that Durkin has bonded his interest to H. E. Croasdaile for two months from the first of August.

The early prospect of the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railway being built should attract prospectors' attention to the range of mountains on the other side of Salmon river. Rich float, going over 300 ounces in silver, was found there last year, and promising indications have also been found lately. The country is in some respects a discouraging one for the prospectors, being very much overgrown with moss and brush; and whatever ledges have been struck there as yet have been narrow. But there is proof positive that rich mineral exists over there, and that a big thing is waiting for the lucky man who strikes it.

Nothing further has been heard of the Crawford bay strikes. They have been made on a big creek that empties into the east side of Crawford bay. A large number of locations have been recorded. Dick Gallop has just returned from a trip up one of the Crawford bay creeks and across to the headwaters of the St. Mary's river. Two bear and two cariboo were the fruits of the expedition. Dick reports the country as a very favorable one for mineral, and he himself found a 4-foot ledge of galena and carbonates, so far as he knew low grade. The formation consists of belts of shale lime porphyry and granite. In his travels he came across the skeleton of a white man, the skull and a few bones somewhat decayed. From the condition of the remains they must have been there for years. All is not beer and skittles for the solitary prospector and hunter.

Persistent rumors give color to the idea that some arrangement has been come to between the C. P. R., and the Nelson & Fort Sheppard outfit. Eighteen surveyors are at present camped on the meadows beyond Cottonwood-Smith lake, to which point they cut out the old trappers' trail from the mouth of the Beaver. They are now engaged in working back along the line of the track. It is probable that the survey will connect with this point from the Nelson terminus of the line. Those who have been through that country think that for a mountain road construction will be comparatively easy. Little or no rockwork has to be encountered, and the pass from the Salmon to the Kootenay river is one of the best possible. The effect upon Nelson of the news that things had become so definite was electrical. None of Nelson's citizens have ever lost their confidence in the future of their town. Mr. Roberts, chief engineer of the Spokane & Northern, came to this town yesterday, accompanied by Mr. Taber, C. E., who will have charge of a party of engineers locating the line of the road from Nelson to the southward. Mr. Brown has another party that is running the line from the boundary in this direction. It is thought that the two parties will be able to complete the surveys, and definitely locate the railway before the snow begins to fly. Probably no construction work will be done until spring, except the erection of the bridge across the Pend d'Oreille river, the piers of which must necessarily be put in during the period of low water.

KASLO.

The bridge over the Kaslo river on Third street is now under way and will soon be completed.

J. L. Retallack has returned from the head of Schroeder creek, where he has been with his partners doing assessment work on the White Heather and other claims. He reports the property looking well, but that he had a great deal of snow to contend with.

The negotiations for the wagon road are proceeding favorably. The townsite people have promised to contribute liberally to the undertaking. The final arrangements will soon be completed, and we expect to see the road in actual construction within ten days at most.

A new assayer, Mr. Hubbard, of the Cœur d'Alenes, has bought out A. E. Bryan's outfit and business. He contemplates putting up sampling works in the town.

On the 7th inst. your correspondent visited the Washington. The lead on this claim is stripped by a landslide for some 400 feet, and was measured in one part to be 30 feet wide. Wherever the cropping is broken off galena shows. The tunnel is being run in along the hanging wall of the lead about two-thirds down the claim. As the lead runs up the hill at an angle of about 50°, depth is rapidly gained. The tunnel is now in about 30 feet and it is estimated that close on 100 tons of ore lie on the dump, which will average, as far as can be told from assays, about $150 per ton. The breast of the tunnel shows 14 inches of solid galena close to the hanging wall, and next to that sixteen inches of carbonates interspersed with galena. The rest of the face of the tunnel shows a large amount of good ore. When the tunnel is 50 feet in it is proposed to run a crosscut to get the footwall and to show the breadth of the ledge. The claim altogether makes a wonderful showing and will probably be the first producing mine on the Kaslo slope.

Mr. S. M. Wharton, of Spokane, has completed the purchase of a sawmill plant which he means to erect on Slocan Lake without delay. It will be placed on the site originally located by Mr. Morrison, directly opposite New Denver. The capacity of the mill will be 15,000 feet per day.

Most boats are allowed a trial trip prior to inspection. The owners of the Ainsworth were fined $400 for having followed out this custom. J. A. Thompson, the Dominion boiler inspector, examined a blue print of her machinery, and ordered that two stays, 1¼ inch diameter, be inserted in the bottom tube plate, and two of the same size be inserted in the top tube plate, and that an intermediate joint be made on the neutral plate. To make these alterations would cost as much as to put in a new boiler, and when made the steam pressure must be reduced, so the inspector says, to 81 pounds. With 130 pounds of steam the Ainsworth would make from 13 to 15 knots per hour; with 81 pounds, from 8 to 10, which reduction in speed would make her practically useless for passenger traffic. The owners think that justice is not being done them, and from all accounts they are right in so thinking.
